What is Child Trafficking?

- Child victims of trafficking are recruited, transported, transferred, harbored or received for the purpose of exploitation.
- They may be forced to work in sweatshops, on construction sites or in houses as domestic servants; on the streets as child beggars, in wars as child soldiers, on farms, in traveling sales crews or in restaurants and hotels. Some are forced to work in brothels and strip clubs or for escort and massage services.

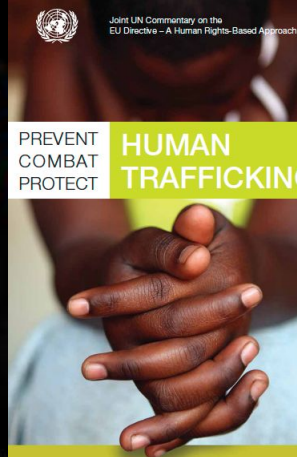

Child Trafficking Awareness

- The International Labor Organization estimates there are about 21 million trafficking victims worldwide.

- 2. Lessen your own slavery footprint. Whether you are at the mall, or shopping for groceries, take a second to verify that the products you buy were made by free adult workers.
- 3. Host a Not My Life Film Screening. Not My Life offers a holistic depiction of trafficking not only around the world, but in the United States as well.
